Odd people fearing

WANTED FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER (actual AP headline)
Linda Burnett, 23, a resident of San Diego, was visiting her in-laws, and while there, she went to a nearby supermarket to pick up some groceries.

Several people noticed her sitting in her car with the windows rolled up and with her eyes closed, with both hands behind the back of her head. One customer who had been at the store for a while became concerned and walked over to the car.

He noticed that Linda's eyes were now open, and she looked very strange. He asked her if she was okay, and Linda replied that she'd been shot in the back of the head, and had been holding her brains in for over an hour.

The man called the paramedics, who broke into the car because the doors were locked and Linda refused to remove her hands from her head. When they finally got in, they found that Linda had a wad of bread dough on the back of her head.

A Pillsbury biscuit canister had exploded from the heat, making a loud noise that sounded like a gunshot, and the wad of dough hit her in the back of her head. When she reached back to find out what it was, she felt the dough and thought it was her brains. She initially passed out, but quickly recovered and tried to hold her brains in for over an hour until someone noticed and came to her aid.

DRUGS WILL FRY YOUR BRAIN!!!!**

The Trans Siberian Orchestra was a hit!!!

December 7th concert was great!

Besides good Holiday music there is a thoughtful story line.

For the story go to..

*Funny Stuff****

Kids are funny! “ I took my six-year-old daughter, Gracie, to visit my sister in Manhattan. It was her first time in New York City, so I decided we’d walk across town so she could see the sights. After we’d gone a few blocks, Gracie stopped and sighed, “ I think we’re going in circles. I keep seeing the same yellow car!” I laughed as I explained that they were taxis.— Robin Clark-Kamensek, Frederick,

“ Boy, does my head hurt! My brain must have learned something in school today.”

Q: what do potatoes wear to bed?

A: their yammies!
